

ACADEMIC CAREER PREPARATION PHD Program

Carol A. Miles
CAULLT November 2019

PhD Scholarships

Academic Career Preparation

Initiated by new VC

90 scholarships

One time only (extra scholarship money)

Little consultation with CTL prior to initial information being sent to candidates

Initial information sent out

ACADEMIC CAREER PREPARATION PATHWAY

You are required to undertake Academic Career Preparation (ACP) pathway as a component of your program, which provides an academic training experience beyond the research experience, enabling you to develop a portfolio of academic experiences that also develops core competencies in university teaching.

Upon your commencement in the degree program, your progress in the ACP pathway will be assessed on an annual basis.

Five online modules

Fifty hours of teaching experience (responsibility of PhD Supervisor)

Application to Advance HE for Associate Fellow

Carol Miles

Director, Centre for Teaching and Learning

University of Newcastle, Australia

+61 (0)2 4921 6674

carol.miles@newcastle.edu.au

ctl@newcastle.edu.au