

Professor Michael Sankey, Griffith University.

Michael is the Director, Learning Transformations at Griffith. He specialises in technology enhanced learning, staff and leadership development, curriculum renewal, online pedagogies, multimodal design, digital, visual and multiliteracies. Working in Higher Education for 30+ years he is particularly interested in how constructively aligned and aesthetically enhanced learning environments can better transmit concepts to students from diverse backgrounds. Michael is also President of the Australasian Council on Open, Distance and e-Learning and Director of the ACODE Learning Technologies Leadership Institute.